President’s Initiative to Prevent Sexual Misconduct

BACKGROUND

The President’s Initiative to Prevent Sexual Misconduct (PIPSM) has its genesis in President Kaler’s May, 2017 charge to Dean Finnegan, School of Public Health, to create an infrastructure to enhance and expand the institution’s efforts to prevent sexual misconduct and sexual violence on its system campuses. Driving the effort was an agenda to improve university approaches to this most serious challenge afflicting campuses nationwide.

PIPSM responded to the ‘charge’ and went to work over a two-year period from May, 2017 to June, 2019 to begin the process of addressing this critical issue.

Sustainability of the PIPSМ was considered from the beginning. In November 2017, President Kaler wrote to Dean Finnegan and posed the question, “What is the organizational framework envisioned for the Initiative that will sustain our work over a long period of time? Part of the project over the initial two-year period needs to be finding an administrative home that will be responsible for this ongoing work.”

After consultation with leadership in fall 2018, President Kaler made the decision to institutionalize the PIPSМ and have it housed in the Office of Human Resources. PIPSМ transitioned from “ad hoc” status to formal status within the University to assure its continuity, focus and impact into the future and ensured: 1) establishment of continuing University administrative and financial support; 2) provision of a stable platform for the mission and activities; and 3) establishment of a formal leadership and governance structure to assure the continuing success and effectiveness, in order for the work to bring meaningful and sustained long-term culture change.

VALUES STATEMENT

The University of Minnesota is committed to learning what we can do to change ourselves and the culture of the academy to prevent and respond to sexual misconduct. Responsibility for long-term culture change to prevent sexual misconduct belongs to all members of our University community: faculty, staff, students and alumni. PIPSМ is a University engaged endeavor and will continue to rely on the entire community for active involvement. The University of Minnesota community chooses to change, lead and thrive in this crucial area.

Community engagement, investment, and ownership are what drive the short and long-term actions we seek to facilitate, and the resulting outcomes we seek to achieve. Key guiding principles promote the values that drive this work. We must:

PIPSМ Charter rev 7-10-19
• eliminate sexual misconduct in order to uphold academic freedom and responsibility, that is, the freedom of all members of the campus community to learn and to inquire;

• create an atmosphere of mutual respect, free from racism, sexism, and other forms of prejudice, discrimination and intolerance; and,

• inspire, set high expectations for, and empower all of the individuals within this community to fully experience a healthy, safe, welcoming, supportive and inclusive culture.

MISSION AND SCOPE

PIPSM takes a public health approach and will maintain this framework to ensure successful outcomes over time.

A public health approach and principles of prevention informed by science and research-based evidence will guide and shape the development, implementation, and evaluation of the PIPSMS’s goals.

Vision:
We envision a University community that is free from sexual misconduct including sexual violence and harassment of any kind. We seek to improve and sustain a culture of health and wellness in relationships, and promote a commitment to the welfare of others, protection of human rights, and due process.

Goal:
A University of Minnesota community whose members act to prevent sexual misconduct, including harassment or sexual violence of any kind.

GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE

The PIPSMS governance structure includes two organizational entities: a Steering Committee with responsibility to recommend strategic direction and budget, and a broad-based stakeholder led Advisory Committee to advise and champion the work. The Office of General Counsel will provide legal advice and counsel to PIPSMS as appropriate.
